Note: Organisations shown in the outer circle of the diagram are umbrella bodies representing further members and multiple organisations.

The Place-Based working group is made up of representatives from across London borough councils, including Lewisham, Camden and Merton, and senior leaders from sub-regional partnerships - West London Alliance, Local London and Central London Forward.

Unlike the other groups, participants are not working towards pledge-setting and delivery, but instead capturing and sharing lessons and best practice on how to build effective anchor institution partnerships at the local level.
